Among the many Favours diſpenſed by Providence to theſe Kingdoms, we eſteem it a particular Mercy, that the Life of His late Majeſty was ſpared till a Succeſſor deſcended from Him, was at full Maturity to ſway the Sceptre with Dignity and Luſtre. Though we cannot but mourn as dutiful Children, the Removal of our Common Father, we have Conſolation and unfeigned Joy, in ſeeing the Throne filled by your Majeſty, in whoſe Princely Virtues we have the beſt Foundation to expect a Continuance and Improvement of thoſe invaluable Bleſſings, which we have enjoyed under your glorious Anceſtors.

Permit us then, moſt gracious Sovereign, to offer our moſt ſincere and affectionate Congratulations on your Majeſty's happy Acceſſion to the Throne, and to aſſure your Majeſty of our warmeſt Zeal for your Service, and our firmeſt Loyalty to your Perſon and Government.

That your Majeſty may be the conſtant Object of Divine Protection, and ſurpaſs the greateſt of your Predeceſſors, in Fame, Glory, and Succeſs, through the Courſe of a long and happy Reign, is the ardent Prayer of your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects.

The Allegiance, which we owe to your Majeſty, is firm and immutable; and we do ſolemnly promiſe our conſtant Faith and Obedience, and moſt cordial Attachment, to your Majeſty and your Government; being fully convinced, that our Religious and Civil Rights

Rights can be effectually ſecured only under your Majeſty, and your Illuſtrious Family; and we do freely and heartily engage to exert, upon all Occaſions, our utmoſt Efforts, at the Peril of every Thing that is dear or valuable to us, in Support of your Majeſty, and the Proteſtant Succeſſion in your Royal Houſe.

May the ſame Omnipotent Ruler, who has hitherto conducted your Royal Anceſtors, ſtill continue His Gracious Influence and Protection to your Majeſty, and make your Reign long and proſperous over us your Subjects, who will ever eſteem their Happineſs dependant on their Duty and Fidelity to your Majeſty.

Your Majeſty's eminent Virtues, derived from your Illuſtrious Parents, afford the moſt pleaſing Hopes, and encourage us to conſider all the Circumſtances, in which your Majeſty inherits the Throne of your Anceſtors, as concurring to make your Majeſty the glorious Sovereign of a free, united, happy Nation; we think it our Duty, on this Occaſion, to profeſs an intire Confidence in your Majeſty's Wiſdom, and a perfect Acquieſcence in ſuch Meaſures, as your Majeſty ſhall judge it expedient to take for the Good of your native Country, and the Liberties of Europe; and the beſt Demonſtration we can give of this Confidence, is the Zeal with which we join the general Voice of our Fellow-Subjects, in wiſhing your Majeſty a long and proſperous Reign over a loyal, grateful, and affectionate People.

The Protection of our Religion, Laws and Liberties; the extending of our Commerce, and raiſing the Glory of the Nation, both Civil and Military, to the higheſt Pitch; and, at laſt, leaving all his Subjects moſt wonderfully united, in a perfect Approbation of his wiſe and equitable Government: Theſe are Bleſſings which muſt reflect a diſtinguiſhed Luſtre upon the glorious Reign of our late Monarch to remoteſt Ages, and cannot fail, at preſent, mightily to endear his Memory, and to impreſs a deep Senſe of the Loſs which the Nation hath ſuſtained on the Heart of every Britiſh Subject.

But our Minds are greatly revived by the Acceſſion of your Majeſty, the Heir of the Virtues, as well as the Dominions of our late Sovereign, at a Criſis when the ſame Wiſdom and Magnanimity which animated His late Majeſty's Councils, ſeem neceſſary to make the unparalleled Succeſs of the Britiſh Arms, and of the Arms of your illuſtrious Ally, terminate in a glorious and laſting Peace.

That this ſo deſirable Bleſſing may be the Reſult of the Wiſdom of your Majeſty's Councils, and of the Valour of your Arms: That you may long enjoy the Fruits thereof, and continue to reign in the Hearts and Affections of your moſt faithful People, the illuſtrious Protector of their Religion, Laws, and Liberties; and that there may never be wanting a Succeſſion of Monarchs, deſcended from your Majeſty, and endued with the ſame Princely Virtues, to tranſmit theſe Bleſſings to our lateſt Poſterity, will be the invariable Object of our moſt ardent Prayers to the Almighty Protector of States and Kingdoms.

Permit us, at the ſame Time, with unfeigned Joy, to congratulate your Majeſty upon your happy Acceſſion to the Throne of theſe Kingdoms, and to give you the ſtrongeſt Aſſurances of our zealous Attachment to your Perſon and Government; and that we will conſtantly endeavour, with the utmoſt Aſſiduity, to inſtill the Principles of true Religion, Loyalty, and good Morals, into the Minds of the People committed to our Care.

If it were poſſible for us to forget our Duty to that moſt excellent Church, of which we are Members, your Majeſty's known Regard for us under that Capacity, your great and ſerious Intentions for the Encouragement of Religion and Virtue in all your Subjects, muſt create in us every Degree of Zeal and Attention, which ſuch very intereſting Conſiderations do certainly demand of us.

We farther add our fervent Prayers to the Almighty, that He will be pleaſed to pour down His choiceſt Bleſſings upon your Majeſty, that He will crown your Endeavours for the Publick Good with Succeſs, and that he will grant you a long and proſperous Reign, over a grateful and happy People.

Your Majeſty's moſt gracious Declaration in Council, hath confirmed us in thoſe Sentiments, we had before entertained, of your Majeſty's Wiſdom, Virtue, and Zeal for our Conſtitution, both in Church and State; and gives us the ſtrongeſt Aſſurances, that by the ſame wiſe Counſels which have been hitherto purſued, your Majeſty will continue to advance the Honour, and Reputation, of this Kingdom; which, from the Increaſe of its Commerce, the Strength of your Navy, and the Valour of your Troops, is already become the Envy of ſome Nations, a Terror to others, and the Admiration of all.

May the glorious Cauſe of Liberty ſtill proſper under your Sacred Majeſty's moſt auſpicious Government; the Efforts of all its Enemies be entirely defeated; and may your Majeſty enjoy, in full Peace, a long and proſperous Reign, over a happy and grateful People.

AT the Court at St. James's the 2d Day of December, 1760,

PRESENT,

The King's moſt Excellent Majeſty in Council.

This Day the Right Honourable Francis Earl of Huntingdon, Maſter of the Horſe to His Majeſty, and George Townſhend, Eſq; were, by His Majeſty's Command, ſworn of His Majeſty's moſt Honourable Privy Council, and took their reſpective Places at the Board accordingly.

Whitehall, December 2.

Yeſterday arrived here Baron Cocceii, Aide de Camp to the King of Pruſſia, by whom he was ſent with the Confirmation, and Account, of the late ſignal Victory obtained by His Pruſſian Majeſty on the 3d paſt, near Torgau in Saxony, over the Auſtrian Army, commanded by Marſhal Daun; and was this Day preſented to His Majeſty at St. James's, by whom he was received in the moſt gracious Manner.

Hague, Nov. 14. The News of the King of Pruſſia's Victory over the Auſtrians under Marſhal Daun, on the 3d Inſtant, near Torgau, is now confirmed from all Parts. The Particulars of that great Action are contained in a Relation already given to the Publick by Authority. And from a Liſt it appears, that the Pruſſians, on that Day, made 216 Auſtrian Officers, among whom are four Generals, and upwards of Eight Thouſand Private Men, Priſoners of War; and took Fifty Pieces of Cannon. The Pruſſians compute compute their own Loſs to conſiſt in 2500 killed and 4900 wounded; beſides 1500 which are taken Priſoners. No Calculation has yet appeared of the Number of killed and wounded on the Side of the Auſtrians. The King of Pruſſia himſelf had a ſlight Contuſion on the Breaſt by a Muſket Shot; and Marſhal Daun was obliged to retire from the Field of Battle, by a Wound he received on the Thigh.

Hague, Nov. 24. By the laſt Accounts from Saxony we find, That the King of Pruſſia, in Conſequence of his Victory on the 3d, was drawing near Dreſden with his Army; and that, after having quitted Meiſſen, he had advanced to Unkerſdorff, and that ſome of his Troops had actually taken Poſſeſſion of Freyberg: So that his Pruſſian Majeſty's Poſition was nearly the ſame, as at the Opening of the preſent Campaign.

Our laſt Advices, relating to the Ruſſians, mention, with Confidence, their Retreat towards the Viſtula, and the Generals Czernichew and Tottleben having actually evacuated all the Places, they had, in Brandenburgh; as alſo ſome Advantages, which General Werner had gained over ſome Ruſſian Parties in their Retreat.

The Hereditary Prince of Brunſwick, we hear, was ſtill at Klein-Reckum, on the 22d Inſtant.

Brunſwick, Nov. 21. We have received Information, That Prince Ferdinand of Brunſwick had quitted his Head Quarters at Ovilgunne, and paſſed the Weſer, and was actually on the 18th at Uſlar; from whence it is ſuppoſed, that ſome vigorous Attempts will be made to diſlodge the French from the Poſts they occupy on this Side of the River Weſer. The Generals Diepenbroek and Luckner are, it is ſaid, ordered from the Side of the Hartz, to ſecond his Serene Highneſs's Operations.

Admiralty Office, December 2.

Capt. Bentinck, of His Majeſty's Ship the Niger, gives an Account, in his Letter dated in Plymouth Sound, the 27th of laſt Month, that on the 24th in the Morning he fell in with a Snow, which he chaſed till Eight o' Clock at Night, when he took her: She proved to be the Eprecue, a Frigate of about 200 Tons, 14 Six-Pounders, and 136 Men, belonging to the French King, commanded by Monſ. Le Picquier, Lieutenant, and ſailed from Morlaix the Night before ſhe was taken.

Capt. Ourry, of His Majeſty's Ship Actæon, gives an Account, in his Letter dated the 28th of laſt Month, that he had given Chaſe that Morning to a French Brig Privateer, which he ſoon came up with, and took: She is called the Phœnix, belonging to Morlaix, of 12 Carriage and 12 Swivel Guns, and 120 Men.

Admiralty Office, December 2.

PUrſuant to an Act of Parliament paſſed in the 26th Year of His late Majeſty's Reign; This is to give Notice to the Concerned, That Information hath been ſent to this Office, that, on the 20th of laſt Month, the Snow Samuel, of Liverpoole, James Daniel, late Maſter, bound from Jamaica to Liverpoole, in the Evening ſtruck on a Sand Bank, a few Leagues diſtant from Pill of Fowdrey, in the Port of Lancaſter, where ſhe went to Pieces; and the Maſter, two Mates, Boatſwain, and two Boys, were drowned.

J. Clevland.

General Poſt Office, April 12, 1760.

Publick Notice is hereby given, That, for the Time to come, no Perſon whatſoever will be permitted to paſs from England, in any of the King's Packet Boats, ſtationed at Harwich or Dover, without firſt obtaining a Paſſport from one of His Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State.

All Perſons, intending to return to England in the ſaid Packet-Boats, are in like Manner to produce a Paſſport from His Majeſty's Miniſter at the Hague, or from His Majeſty's Conſul or Vice-Conſul at Fluſhing, before they can be received on Board.

A Second Volume of the ORATIONS of DEMOSTHENES, tranſlated into Engliſh, which, together with the Philippic Orations, compleats the Number of thoſe delivered in Political Debates. With a Preface, and Notes Hiſtorical and Critical.

By Dr. Thomas Leland.

Printed for W. Johnſton in Ludgate Street.

DR. JAMES's Powder for FEVERS, and other Inflammatory Diſtempers, publiſhed by Virtue of His MAJESTY's ROYAL LETTERS PATENT, will remove (as has been experienced in many thouſand Caſes) any continual acute Fever in a few Hours, though attended with Convulſions, Light-headedneſs, and the worſt Symptoms: But if taken in the Beginning of a Fever, one Doſe is generally ſufficient to perform a Cure. *

It is likewiſe a moſt effectual Remedy for all internal Inflammation, Pleuriſies, Quincies, acute Rheumatiſms, and the Lowneſs of Spirits, and Uneaſineſſes proceeding from ſlow and latent Fevers, which are generally miſtaken for Vapours and Hyſterics; it is extremely effectual in the Small Pox, Meaſles, and St. Anthony's Fire; and a ſingle Doſe remarkably ſtops the Progreſs of a Cold, and certainly prevents the ill Conſequences ariſing from that very common Diſorder, the Source of almoſt all Diſtempers.

This Powder (which is a very ſafe and pleaſant Medicine to take) is ſold by J. Newbery at the Bible and Sun in St. Paul's Church-yard, London; and by J. Hoey, jun. in Skinner Row, Dublin; at 2 s. 6 d. the two Doſes, with good Allowance to thoſe who buy it for charitable Uſes, or to ſell again.

* See a Diſſertation on Fevers, and other Inflammatory Diſtempers, ſold at the Places above-mentioned. Price 6 d.

For the Teeth, Scurvy in the Gums, and Tooth-ach.

TWO Tinctures of known and eſtabliſhed Reputation, which have been long ſucceſsfully uſed by the Nobility and Gentry, both of this Kingdom and of Ireland, and for which His Majeſty has been pleaſed to grant His Royal Letters Patent, are ſold by the Patentee, THO. GRENOUGH, Apothecary, at the King's Arms and Peſtle and Mortar in Ludgate-ſtreet; and by J. NEWBURY, at the Bible and Sun in St. Paul's Church-yard, over-againſt the North Door of the Church, Price 1 s. a Bottle.

The Tincture for Preſerving the Teeth, cleanſes and takes off all their Foulneſs, renders them white and beautiful, faſtens ſuch as are looſe, prevents their Decaying, and entirely cures the Scurvy in the Gums.

The Tincture for the Tooth-ach removes the moſt raging and violent Pain in a few Minutes, without either corroding the Teeth or affecting the Gums.

The great Demand for theſe Tinctures having induced ſeveral Perſons to attempt to counterfeit the ſame, (ſome of whom are now under Proſecution) the Publick are deſired to obſerve, that for the Future the Patentee will inſcribe his Name on a Label on each Bottle, in the following Manner, T. GRENOUGH, and none but what are ſo inſcribed are genuine.

TO be ſold, together or in Parcels, purſuant to a Decree of the High Court of Chancery, before Thomas Bennett, Eſq; one of the Maſters of the ſaid Court, at his Houſe in Curſitor's Street in Chancery Lane, London, Part of the Eſtate of John Fielden, late of Bank Houſe in Burnley in the County Palatine of Lancaſter, deceaſed, conſiſting of ſeveral Tenements and Lands called Maggot Holme, alias Bridge End, Cow Bank and Bear Wiſe, of the clear yearly Value of 21 l. 17 s. ſituate in Todmerden in the County of Lancaſter; and in the Pariſh of Stansfield in Yorkſhire. Particulars whereof may be had at the ſaid Maſter's Houſe.
